Household Legal Expenses Insurance

No household insurance policy is complete without legal protection. It's a low-cost, high-value product protecting your customers and their immediate family, across a wide variety of areas such as employment matters, neighbour disputes, consumer contract and personal injury.

Cover can be provided to replace an existing product or, better still, we can work with you to deliver a tailored product that matches the specific needs of your clients. This can include protection on issues as varied as ID theft and restitution and domestic emergency assistance.

mind at home”

We can offer your customers an extensive range of 24-hour telephone help and advice lines covering areas such as Personal Legal Advice, Employment Advice and Counselling. This means you can offer your customers the expert support they need, when they need it.

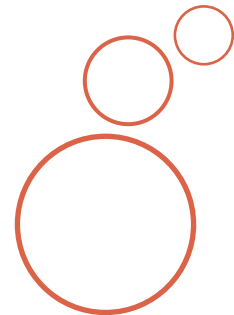

If you have an existing arrangement which you need to replicate, update or refresh, then we can provide all the support you need to switch your cover with the minimum of fuss. We are expert in ensuring the simple transfer of business without distracting from your other business priorities.

Give us a call today to discuss how working with the leading Legal Protection provider can help your customers and your business.
